were given 108 on the first floor. The crowd in the corridor heard that Logan was in the dining-room and rushed to the doors. They stood about 4 in. gazing curiously, waiting the great man to exit. He came very quietly, and the doors had to be closed. General Noyes and others paid their respects to him at the table. When he went to his room a reporter with several others knocked for admittance. "Come in," said a tired voice.

Opening the door, the owner of the voice, General Logan, was found sitting on a sofa. "Excuse me for not getting up, as I am very tired," he said.

Mrs. Logan came in and smiled her sweetest.

The General was looking tired out. "Yes, I am tired. I have been making speeches and traveling about until I am about dead."

"Oh, dear--" and the candidate for Vice President sighed very long.

"The General is very tired," said Mrs. Logan, in excuse. Mrs. O'Neil was with her and both ladies made the two callers perfectly at home.

"We had a big meeting at Worcester yesterday," said General Logan. "A larger demonstration, in fact, than we had at Cleveland. But there was a dangerous rumor that Hannan, Judge Watt, General Clay and other male speakers with me, and yet not a reporter for the daily paper was there. I am sure that if I had any more of the kind on the train, I will have nothing to say about it. I am here to make speeches and help carry the State. The telegram I got yesterday here and there are curious. You should see the one I got from Cincinnati. If this State is carried it will carry it."

At 5 p. m. General Logan was escorted to the Exposition by the G. A. R., of whom there were 10,000 in line of march.

Butler Addressing the Farmers.

PORT WATNE, Ind., Oct. 3.—General Butler arrived in this city at 3:15 p. m. Wednesday. He was immediately taken to the Fair Grounds, where he addressed about 3,000 people. The speaker was introduced to the crowd by the Rev. Dr. Butler, a man, who was sitting on his carriage in the midst of the crowd and obstructing the view of those behind him, to move on, saying: "We are anti-monopolists; no man shall take up more room than belongs to him."

General Butler spoke for an hour and a half, touching upon the political questions of the day. He denounced civil service reform as a humbug, and predicted that the party which shall be defeated at the November election will unite with the People's party in the future. At the close of his speech General Butler was greeted with a round of cheers.

Ex-Congressman Pelton.

CARTERSVILLE, Ga., Oct. 3.—For some time negotiations have been pending where by ex-Congressman Pelton, the famous Georgia Independent, might be brought back into the party line. He was looked upon as too powerful a man to be kept in opposition. His election to the State Legislature yesterday was the result of his return. It is proposed to accord him there, put him back into harness and open the way for the party to work in the State. Pelton is believed that Pelton will be satisfied with anything less than the Governorship next time. As Pelton is from extreme north Georgia, and the extreme north Georgia claim the office, a lively preliminary campaign may be looked for. Pelton, next after Joe Brown, is the strongest politician in Georgia.

Logan to Stay in Ohio.

WORCESTER, Mass., Oct. 3.—General Logan had agreed to be in Worcester on October 31, at 10 o'clock. He was expected to be in Worcester for a Republican demonstration, but a dispatch received last night from Secretary Foster, announces that the National Convention will meet in Worcester on October 31. It is understood that he is to remain in Ohio until the election.

PROHIBITION IN KANSAS.

Heavy Penalties Imposed Upon Sale of Liquor.

LAWRENCE, Kan., Oct. 3.—In the District Court of Pottawatomie County today Henry Bowman was fined $100 for selling intoxicating liquor on twenty-one counts. Sentence was passed fine $100 on each of the twenty-one counts, to be sent to jail for thirty days. The defendant was ordered to give bail for $200 for good behavior on release. In the same Court, Adolph Evans was fined $200 for selling intoxicating liquor contrary to the prohibition law, and was convicted on six counts, fined $200, and imprisoned thirty days. Michael Dinsler was fined $200 and committed to thirty days. Chris Roth was fined $200, J. H. Jos $200, and committed. The most vigorous prosecution on the prohibitory amendment in the State is being done in this district. As will be remembered, Judge Martin was nominated at Emporia two years ago by the democracy for the same office. He was the cause of a too strong prohibitory plan in the platform, compelling the Convention to choose Clark the present incumbent. However, his is the most aggressive court in the State. He fines heavily and places under bond for good behavior.

Dead in His Bath-Tub.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—A Scotchman in London was shocked and horrified today by the discovery that Sir James Lumsden Seton had committed suicide. Sir James was one of the richest barons of Scotland, was forty-nine years old, and inherited his title and estates from his father, the seventh baron of his line, only four years ago. During most of his life Sir James was a soldier, and when he retired from the Army he was Captain in the 104th Foot. His usual residence was at Pilsford, Scotland, but he had lived in London the past few weeks. This morning he was found in his bath-tub dead, and still clutching a razor. There is no reason assignable for the suicide, and the coroner's jury returned a verdict to the effect that he killed himself while insane.

Big Cargo of Grain.

New York, Oct. 3.—The British steamship Kalra, Captain Little, for Antwerp, with 154,000 bushels of grain, went to sea yesterday morning without detaining, drawing 24 feet. It is the largest cargo of grain that ever left this port.

WEAKENING OF THE MIND

John McCullough, the Actor, in a State of Franny.

Force Required to Manage Him--His Future--A Mordere Maniac at Drifton, Pa. -- Probably Religious Excitement.

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Owing to the natural reluctance of those associated with John McCullough, the tragedian, to discuss a painful subject, the circumstances attending his withdrawal from the stage have not been fully given to the public. It now appears that Mr. McCullough has not been informed that all his dates had been canceled. After the rehearsal Tuesday afternoon he was told that the engagement at McCullough's Theater would not be completed, and was shown a letter from Mr. McKivker to Mr. Brooks, in which McCullough's illness and consequent inability to do himself justice were presented as reasons for closing the house. Mr. McCullough was lying down at the time, resting himself for the performance which he expected to give in the evening, but he arose, dressed himself, and in complete ignorance of what was going on, returned to his hotel and accepted the situation. He supposed, however, that the performance would be resumed at the same place on the route, and nothing has been said to disabuse him of his error.

A careful watch was kept upon him by detectives. Whenever he went out he was shadowed, and when he entered a carriage and went for a drive a detective followed not far off in a cab. Of course, the fact that he was shadowed was kept from him.

During yesterday he manifested numerous proofs that his mind was in a terribly excited state, and that his reason was fast leaving him. In the morning he succeeded in getting possession of the newspapers and he read the accounts of his own condition in much more than the interest which he had manifested. In the afternoon he went to the Tremont House and told Miss Tracy that he intended to go to Detroit at once. He was finally persuaded to defer going until evening, and he left the hotel, enjoining Miss Tracy to meet him at the depot at 7 o'clock.

Shortly after that time he appeared in his baggage suit and proceeded thither himself. His friends with his baggage and two of Pinkerton's men followed him. They found him walking up and down the platform with Miss Tracy and apparently in a calm frame of mind. By a little strategy Mr. Brooks succeeded in getting into a carriage. The door was closed instantly, and thus imprisoned, Mr. McCullough was driven to the Grand Hotel. On the way there Mr. McCullough evidently protested stoutly and by the time the hotel was reached he was thoroughly excited and angry. It was then that the detectives were ordered to get him into the hotel. At the entrance he struggled desperately, and struck Mr. Brooks a heavy blow with his cane. Two of the Pinkerton men were employed at the hotel, and they rushed to one side, fearing the frenzied man would strike them. Mr. McCullough was finally taken into the hotel, half-dressed, half-dragged, and there so desperate was his resistance it was found necessary to throw him into the elevator much as a drunken man might have been. He was taken up to his room and kept a prisoner there. In a very short time after this he had taken leave of Miss Tracy, and the latter was crying unavailingly. After a moment's delay she went up to Mr. McCullough's room and did what she could to assist in calming his mind and bringing him to realize that he was not in fit condition to fill engagements for some time to come, and that it was impossible for him to do so. Mr. McCullough became calmer, though he was by no means reconciled. Just what he said concerning the treatment he had received and what he intended to do, he will be heard of in these guarding him would not vouchsafe any information.

Mr. Brooks was seen last night by a reporter. When asked what would be the future movements of Mr. McCullough, and if there was anything new in his condition, he replied: "I have to say, I will say in regard to the matter. The engagement is canceled, and that's the end of it. There is nothing new in the case. Mr. McCullough is now a private citizen, and should be treated as such. I suppose his future movements will be announced hereafter. The thing is done, and as a personal favor, I wish the papers would drop it."

Drifton, Pa., Having Trouble.

DRIFTON, Pa., Oct. 3.—John Boyce, a miner employed by Cove Bros. & Co., was returning from a mission service at the Roman Catholic Church this morning, accompanied by his wife and sister when he suddenly dropped on his knees and began praying. Then, with a yell, he sprang up, tossed his hat into the air, pulled his wife by the hair, and rushed into his home in his maddest frenzy, dashed his head against a mirror, shivering it into fragments, and then he began to scream. Still yelling and waving his hand with the blood streaming from it, he tore frantically up the street. Every body supposed he had murdered some one, and was brandishing the knife eager for more bloodshed. Catching hold of his terrified sister he flung her into the street, and then he choked her to death, but being pulled off turned upon the crowd that gathered and charged it, still waving his bloody hand, and crying "God bless my country, God bless my country." He pursued them, and after a long chase came up with Thompson's band, who were immediately grappled, tearing all the clothes from his body. Gibbons held on to him, and the others plucking up courage said the man was a madman, and a desperate struggle ensued. He was carried home and now lies there, tied hand and foot, under the charge of a physician, who pronounces him suffering from a most severe attack of acute mania, brought on by religious excitement probably.

FOUR LIVES LOST

While Trying to Cross a Swelling Stream. PAIR, Mo., Oct. 3.—A heavy rain storm swept over this section Tuesday afternoon, raising all the streams in a short time. Shortly after the storm J. J. Hickman, a farmer of this county, with his daughter-in-law, Mrs. H. Hickman, and two small children, attempted to cross Polk Creek, about eight miles southeast of Paris. They were caught by the rising flood and swept away. The body of Mr. Hickman was found yesterday morning, lodged in the brush on the bank. The other bodies have not been recovered. Mr. Hickman was about sixty years old.

An International Dispute.

MONTREAL, P. Q., Oct. 3.—Judgment has been rendered in the Superior Court here in the case of Berworth, in which a very interesting point of law was raised. The defendant, Henry Berworth, had his store exactly on the frontier line. In the township of "Hinchinbrook" part of the store being in the state of New York and part in Canada. One night all the goods were removed from the Canadian side of the store to the American, leaving nothing but empty shelves for the Canadian creditors to look to, and they issued a capias against Berworth, alleging fraudulent secretion of his effects.

It was contended by Berworth's counsel that the goods had been removed by William Douglas, to whom Berworth had made an assignment, giving Douglas voluntary preference for over $1,000, which would more than exhaust the whole estate. It was argued, under the laws of the United States, that the debtor's property, wherever situated, vested in the assignee, and that he was justified in removing the goods to the American side of the store. The court, however, upheld the pretensions of the Canadian creditors.

CHANFRAN DEAD.

The Eminent Actor Fatally Stricken with Paralysis While Eating.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Frank Chanfran was to appear in the Academy of Music in Jersey City last night in "Ira." While eating dinner at Taylor's Hotel, he dropped his knife and as he stooped over to pick it up, he fell from his chair unconscious. His right side is paralyzed, and he is unable to move. The actor's illness and the house was closed. Chanfran thinks the actor will recover, but will not for a long time be able to go out on the stage. Mr. Chanfran is sixty years old.

DEAD.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Frank Chanfran, the actor, died at Jersey City today. Chanfran was under engagement to appear last week at the Academy of Music in Jersey City. He was stricken with paralysis last evening while at supper with his wife, his sister-in-law, and remained unconscious until his death.

FIRE ON THE VOLGA.

Two Steamers and Several Ships

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 3.—One of the steamers plying on the Volga River took fire yesterday at Kostroma, broke loose from the dock and drifted down the river. It was one of the vessels. Being loaded with oil, it burned fiercely as it floated on the river. The vicinity was soon an intense sea of flame consuming everything within reach. The excitement was intense. Firemen, sailors and others worked heroically. Several ships were blown up by the flames. Many persons were killed or injured before the fire was controlled. The loss will reach several million rubles.

BRUTAL FIGHT.

Lasting an Hour and Ten Minutes--The Principle Arrested.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—A desperate prize fight took place this morning in the vicinity of the Epsom race course. The match was for £10 a side, between Jack Meade and One-eyed Colly Midgley. Many prominent persons were present, coming from London in carriages and on horseback. Midgley fell off well, and for several rounds got the better of his antagonist, punishing him severely. Near the end of the fight, Meade stood up bravely, and seemed to be watching for an opportunity to get in an effective blow, which he finally did, sending his fist on Midgley's remaining eye, closing it up. Colly's seconds then wanted him to throw up the sponge, but he refused, and continued fighting. After the fight lasted an hour and ten minutes, the police appeared and arrested the principals.

Poor but Not Paupers.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The Commissioners of Emigration have received a communication from the Central Organization of the Jewish Emigration Societies of London. It was in answer to a circular letter sent from this city to the European Relief Societies by the United Hebrew Charities of this city. The latter organization protested against the sending of pauper immigrants and announced that the relief societies in this country could not care for any more paupers who would not work.

Another Conference.

BENIN, Oct. 3.—It is positively stated here that the great Powers are discussing the question of a renewal of the Egyptian Conference, in order to finally settle the Egyptian financial question. It is stated, also, that Germany is willing to join in the Conference if there should be any reasonable prospect of bringing the matter to a successful issue. The Journal des Debats says: "If England persists in supporting the struggle between China and in violating our rights in Egypt we shall be compelled to accept dependence on Germany."

Patti Swind.

PARIS, Oct. 3.—M. Patti, claiming $10,000 damages as compensation for breaking an engagement at the Theatre des Italiens. M. Patti claims that the singer had promised not to interfere in the matter. M. Patti is on her way to America.

THE people have made up their minds to have an honest, clean, economical administration of public affairs.

FRANK POWERS is the friend of the laboring man, and the person doesn't live who can truthfully deny that.

Mr. Blaine has said to Mulligan, "tell the truth," instead of begging on his knees to have the truth suppressed, one of the most disgraceful episodes in American history would never have spread humiliation among the people.

It is of little importance whether Mr. Blaine's first and second marriage, thirty years ago, was the legal marriage, but it is of the highest importance whether or not Mr. Blaine tells the truth about it now. His word is so badly impeached by the Mulligan letters that what he says in his own defense on any question is not accepted unless corroborated by other testimony.

This conviction strengthens that it would be a crime to keep the Republican party, with its record of corruption, in power for another four years, when there is a chance to turn it out. The books must be opened for inspection, the accounts must be investigated and the foul places made clean. To accomplish this there is but one way, and that is to elect Grover Cleveland.

PROTECTION for the capitalists is the kind of protection the Republican party believes in. Protection also for the pauper labor which is being imported from foreign climes to take the place of honest workingmen. It is the worst kind of trickery and deceitfulness the Republican party is stooping to maintain its grasp on the government and prevent an investigation of their twenty-four years of high-handed misrule. The Republican party must go.

NINE hundred and ninety-nine colored voters and eight hundred and seventy whites, or if we include the editor of the Eagle, as we suppose we must now, eight hundred and seventy-three whites constitute the Republican party in this county. The addition of the Eagle reduces the colored majority in the party to one hundred and twenty-six, but it is still a good working majority and is large enough to enable the colored wing to hold their white Republican brethren level in all political matters.

THE Democrats are polling Illinois. Returns have been received from about one-half the election districts of the State. Those receiving make a showing that is at once surprising and gratifying to the Democratic managers. The returns give the names of about five thousand Republicans who will not vote for Blaine. Should the remaining precincts give the same average a total of ten thousand or twelve thousand will be found in Illinois outside of Chicago. These figures do not include the Germans who have hoisted Blaine. General Leib, who has special charge of that work, declares that there will be not less than twenty thousand Republican Germans in Illinois who will vote for Cleveland.

IN 1868, when Mr. Wadsworth was preparing to flop over to Grant, the editor of the Eagle was not his devoted adherent as he is now. Our esteemed contemporary was at that time a Democrat, or at least was supporting Mr. Seymour, the Democratic candidate for President, and occasionally made speeches during the canvass. In his remarks before a Democratic club in this city, on the 10th day of September in that year, he said: "Mr. Wadsworth's fourth reason why 'we should vote the Radical ticket is his assertion that the plan of reconstruction has been accomplished and can not be undone. He asks us what we intend to do about it and then positively invites us to join in the revolution and participate in the crime. As well might the assassin who had murdered 'your sleeping wife and babes, and their precious blood still dripping from his dagger, and the smell fresh upon his garments, say to those who had caught him in the act: why make all this fuss? Those you love are already dead. You cannot bring them back to life again. You would answer, yes, but I can try the villainous assassin and execute him. We arraign the Radical party as the assassin of the people's liberty, and the fact that the nation has been perpetrated will not be accepted as a palliation of its crimes. We refuse to trust the men who have done these things 'lest they should proceed still further in despotism and infamy."

Thus in sturdy English the editor of the Eagle paid his compliments to Mr. Wadsworth and his party after an invitation had been extended to him to "join in the revolution and participate in the crime." It is the same Mr. Wadsworth, however, that he is now supporting for Congress. "The times change and men change with them."

PROHIBITION.
An Important Interpretation of the Law in Iowa.

MUSCATINE, Ia., Oct. 3.—Judge Hayes charges to the grand jury today in the matter of the late case arising under the new Prohibitory Liquor Law has created a great sensation here. Under this charge it is claimed the enforcement of the law in this district becomes practically impossible. It will be remembered that Judge Hayes has already decided that Justice of the Peace have no jurisdiction over cases under the prohibitory law. Today he informed the jury that the selling of liquor is an indictable offense, but that they must not consider the buyer of liquor as a party to the infraction of law as the seller, and that all persons testifying to having purchased liquor are subject to indictment. Hence no witness summoned before the grand jury can be compelled to testify to the buying of any liquor prohibited by law, as this would be compelling the witness to criminate himself. Judge Hayes said further, having reference to it is supposed to be the intention of the law to make the buyer of liquor as much a party to the infraction of law as the seller, and that all persons testifying to having purchased liquor are subject to indictment. Hence no witness summoned before the grand jury can be compelled to testify to the buying of any liquor prohibited by law, as this would be compelling the witness to criminate himself. CONNECTICUT'S LEGISLATURE.
The Proposed Amendment Concerning Biennial Sessions.

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 3.—The constitutional amendment concerning biennial sessions of the Legislature will be submitted to the voters next Monday. There are among the prominent men of the city many opinions pro and con upon the advisability of the measure. John M. Ingersoll said that the effect of the amendment would be to place the people in the legislative hall better off than they are now. A. H. H. Robertson, Democratic candidate for Senator, thought the amendment would be a good one, as it would save the people over $100,000 per annum. City Clerk Fugitt is against the amendment, and says that the amendment would be a bad one, as it would save the people over $100,000 per annum. City Clerk Fugitt is against the amendment, and says that the amendment would be a bad one, as it would save the people over $100,000 per annum.

LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE
Directors' Meeting—President's Report—Bonds to be Issued.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 3.—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad twenty-five were present, representing a majority of the stock. The President made a leading statement of $3,116,111.65, against $3,183,948.14 the same date in 1883. The net earnings, $5,327,455, net income, $3,183,948.14, for the year were $1,127,339.36, against an outlay of $1,300,347.10. By a unanimous vote it was decided to authorize the President and Directors to issue $100,000 negotiable bonds upon the mortgage on the company's line, excepting its line from Louisville to Lexington and from Lexington to New York and Cincinnati Bridge, and the electric and Richmond branches, and to sell or pledge the company's $50,000 unissued bonds at the discretion of the President and Directors.

CHIP OFF THE OLD BLOCK.
E. T. Sperry Gone to Meet His Pa, Orrin.

SALAMANCA, N. Y., Oct. 3.—Orrin Sperry, treasurer of Chautauque County, absconded last spring. He was a defaulter to the amount of nearly $100,000. No trace of his whereabouts has been found. His son, E. T. Sperry, was his deputy. After the elder Sperry disappeared his son was missing for some time. He said he had been looking for his father. When the affairs of the treasurer's office was investigated, Deputy Sperry admitted that he had used $5,000 of the county's money in the business of Porter & Sperry, a firm of which he was the junior partner. The firm made an assignment to the county. Further investigation revealed that the deputy treasurer was in debt to the county. He was indicted by the last Grand Jury. He has in turn absconded, and his whereabouts are unknown.

A NAUGHTY GIRL
Gets Married and Kicks While the Old Folks Are Away.

VINCENNES, Ind., Oct. 3.—A sensation was created here last night by the marriage of Miss Mary Ayres, a well-known fortune teller, to Miss Carrie Wagner, daughter of the proprietor of the Elm House. An attempt to stop the wedding was made, but it was thought that the young lady had recovered from her infatuation, but Lochlainn arrived last evening with "papa" was absent, at the wedding. The ceremony was performed, and the couple jumped into a buggy, and drove over into Illinois, where they will catch a west-bound train and go to Flora, where the groom's home are running this week. Miss Wagner is a pretty little lady and belongs to a good family, while Ayres is one of the most widely celebrated fortune tellers in the Western States.

HORNETSVILLE, N. Y., Oct. 3.—A few weeks ago the wife of Theodore Weidmann, of Lyons, gave birth to her seventeenth child. It died last week. The griefed excessively over its death. On Monday afternoon last her husband went home and found the doors of the house locked. He gained entrance. His wife was missing, and "Emma" was not far from her father's reveal any trace of her. Yesterday morning her dead body was discovered in a deep pool in Black Rock, not far from the village. It is supposed that she committed suicide.

Society Sensation.
UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 3.—William Culver, a brother of Lieutenant Culver, of the navy, was married yesterday to a Miss Brewster, of Truett Falls, who has negro blood in her veins. The affair causes a sensation in society here. Some years ago Culver married a young lady whom his family considered beneath them, and refused to recognize her. When she died, Culver was received at home again. He is thirty years old.

GOV. CLEVELAND
Quietly Departs for His Home at Albany.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 3.—Governor Cleveland left Albany by a special train from the New York Central Railway at 1:15 Thursday for Buffalo, N. Y. His departure was unobtrusive, but a few persons being in the railroad yard. As the train pulled out the Governor raised his hat and the few spectators responded with similar salutes. The Governor is accompanied by John T. Agnew, Mayor of Buffalo, Everett Corning, Simon Ross, John A. McCull, Jr., and Gen. Austin Lathrop.

Probably Murdered for Money.
PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 3.—The dwelling house of Mrs. David Overman near Pioneer, Idaho, was totally destroyed by fire. She was a widow and lived alone. On searching among the ruins her body was found reduced to a heap of ashes. The origin of the fire is unknown. Mrs. Overman is supposed to have had considerable money and jewelry in the house. It is strongly suspected that she was murdered and the building fired to obliterate traces of the crime.

Gratefulness.
Mr. H. Sampel, Ottawa, Kansas, writes: "Dr. S. B. HARTMAN & Co., Columbus, O.—Gentlemen: I have suffered for several years; have tried every thing and many physicians, and all have failed. I went to Pittsburgh, and while there fell on the street, my breath ceased to leave my lungs, and numbers of over-power me. I determined to give PERUNA and MANALIN a fair trial. I used four bottles of each, and my trouble left, never, I hope, to return. I left Pittsburgh three weeks ago for Kansas, and thought, as I was going to a new country, I had better take a bottle of MANALIN with me, in case of bad water, etc. I arrived here with one-half bottle. I found one of my friends in a pretty bad condition. The doctors were treating her for cholera and fever. I did not know what her trouble was, though I persuaded her to use the MANALIN. She did so, and the first day she was up doing her work. Now this seems strange, but it is, nevertheless, a candid truth. She used it all, and has never had time to leave her work during the day since she took the first three doses."

A Case that was Pronounced Incurable.
Miss C. C. Peck, 714 Jackson street, Milwaukee, Wis., writes: "Dr. S. B. HARTMAN & Co., Gentlemen: I take great pleasure in stating to you the benefit I received from your valuable PERUNA. I have been suffering for about fifteen years with a severe cough and bronchitis (so the doctors call it). I was treated by different physicians, and there was no hope for me ever getting better. I was so bad that I coughed almost continually. Mrs. Henry Ellis, a friend of mine, induced me to try your PERUNA. I am happy to say I began to notice a change after I had taken my second bottle. I took eight bottles in all, and now I feel like a new woman. If it hadn't been for PERUNA I think I would be in my grave now. It is a wonderful remedy, and I recommend it to all my friends."

THE ENGLISH SPARROW

Is He a Blessing or a Curse to This Country?

Ornithologists in Session to Discuss His Fate and to Consider Bird Nomenclature Generally.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—In September of last year the American Union of Ornithologists was formed in this city. The object of the Union was the classification of the feathered tribes of North America, the modification of certain rules governing the science, the question of information respecting the status of certain birds, notably the English sparrow, and that America might be on an equality with other nations long possessed of kindred associations. The second annual congress of the Union began its session in the American Museum of Natural History yesterday. The membership of the Union includes most of the prominent ornithologists in the United States and Canada. Among the subjects to be discussed is the English sparrow. This small but numerous immigrant has occupied the attention not only of ornithologists but of people who look at birds from a business, rather than a scientific point of view, ever since his arrival in America. Opinions differ as to his usefulness, but the weight of testimony seems to be overwhelmingly against the intruder. To settle the question the Union took steps last fall to procure information of all kinds touching the bird. The committee having charge of the subject has devoted much time to it, and believes that the information in its possession is full enough to form the basis of a decision on the question.

Before assembling yesterday the members of the Union took a tour through the various departments of the museum. The congress was called to order by Professor J. A. Allen, of Cambridge Museum. Dr. C. Hart Merriam, the secretary, read the minutes of the last congress, and called the roll of the active members, who number forty-six. The members present were: J. A. Allen, Cambridge, Massachusetts; S. B. Buckley, New York; Eugene P. Becknell, Riverside; William Brewster, Cambridge, Massachusetts; Montague Chamberlin, St. John, New Brunswick; Dr. Elliot Coues, Washington; Daniel G. Elliot, New Brighton; Dr. Albert C. Fisher, Sing Sing; Colonel N. R. Goss, Topika, Kansas; Dr. J. B. Halder, New York; Robert Ridgway, Washington; John H. Sage, Portland, Connecticut; and George C. Sennett, Meadville, Pennsylvania. The visitors from England were: Dr. Philip Lush, Scher, Howard Saunders, of London, and G. E. Dobson, Netley and Mr. Knibley, of the British Ornithologists' Union.

Papers will be read on the "Classification and Nomenclature of North American Birds," "Bird Migration," "The Eligibility of the English Sparrow," "Avian Anatomy" and other subjects. At the conclusion of the routine business Dr. Elliot Coues, Chairman of the Committee on Bird Nomenclature, read his report. He felt sure the committee had made satisfactory progress in proposing for adoption certain canons of nomenclature. The report determined the species and status of American birds. The general principles of nomenclature are divided into the law of priority, and the definition of binominal and trinomial nomenclature. The sparrow question is to occupy the attention of the ornithologists. The "little pest," as it is generally called, will be discussed in a thoroughly scientific manner. His habits, bad and good, will be discussed at length, and upon the subject of his removal from the Union of Ornithologists will, in a great measure, depend his fate in America.

ENLISTMENT OF COLORED MEN.

A Controversy Cut Short by Secretary Lincoln.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—A question having arisen between the Secretary of War, General Haugen, Chief Signal Officer, and Lieutenant B. M. Purcell, in reference to the legality of enlisting colored men in the Signal Corps, the Secretary summarily settled the matter by issuing the following order: The Chief Signal Officer of the army is hereby ordered to give such orders and instructions to the officers now or hereafter serving under him as recruiting officers for the army as will prohibit the rejection of a recruit by any such recruiting officer of any applicant for enlistment in the Signal Corps on account of color or on account of the African descent of such applicant. The Chief Signal Officer will report to the Secretary of War the action taken under this order with special reference to the application of William Hallett Greene. ROBERT T. LINCOLN, Secretary of War.

CONDENSED NEWS.

A WATER famine is threatened on account of drought at Petersburg, Virginia.

The Belgian Government has raised the duties on foreign sugar ten per cent.

L. P. MATTHEWS, proprietor McLean Furniture Company, Lawrenceburg, Indiana, has failed for $2,000.

There were forty-nine new cases of cholera and nineteen deaths at Genoa during the past twenty-four hours. Eighty-two cases and twenty-eight deaths at Naples same period.

A DUBLIN dispatch says: "A. M. Sullivan, the eminent Irish publicist, has been a fugitive and is now lying at the point of death. His relatives have been summoned to his bedside."

AFTER the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania steel rail manufacturers yesterday, Philadelphia, a prominent official said the outlook of the trade of Pennsylvania for the coming year is brighter. The demand for steel is increasing and though the prices will be low, there will probably be enough trade to keep the mills in operation and all the men employed.

A DISPATCH from Meriden, Mississippi, says the shops of the Queen and Crescent Roads were burned last night. The fire was not discovered until the entire building was wrapped in flames. The shops which are the largest in the South, contained a quantity of fine machinery, all of which, together with three locomotives was destroyed. It is impossible to estimate the loss, but it may reach a quarter of a million dollars.

Celebrating the Rescue of Jerry. SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 3.—The colored war veterans of Central New York yesterday afternoon celebrated the thirty-third anniversary of the rescue of "Jerry," a fugitive slave. There was a parade in which took part the military, civil service and the survivors of the rescue took part. A large meeting was held at the armory, and Frederick Douglass delivered an address.
